From 1 April 2019, new rules apply to deductions claimed for residential properties. Residential property deductions will now be ring-fenced, meaning that they can only be used to offset income from residential property. This means that the residential property deductions you claim for the year cannot exceed the amount of income you earn from the property for the year. Any excess deductions must be carried forward from year to year until they can be used. You cannot use excess deductions from your residential property to reduce your other income.

In the 2022 tax year there are new rules relating to the deductibility of interest from 1 October 2021.

If you have more than one property, you can choose to apply these rules on a portfolio basis or on a property-by-property basis.

Please contact us with any queries in relation to this.
